A fantastical flock of giant bamboo birds

Winged Wonders

Find the Flock

Welcome to Sonoma Botanical Garden where we invite you to explore Winged Wonders, a fantastical flock of bamboo birds, crafted entirely from natural materials. These works of art celebrate California's native birds and the ecosystems that sustain them.

Marvel at the sight of a gigantic Acorn Woodpecker soaring through the oak trees, snap a photo with a friendly 10-foot-tall Western Bluebird, and discover larger-than-life owls, quail, and more, all perched throughout the Garden. Along the way, colorful signs share fun facts about each bird, with scannable codes that allow you to hear their distinctive calls.
